Faure, Adenauer Move Fast To Counter Crisis Over Saar

They Exchange Wires Renewing Their Solidarity

SAARBRUECKEN, Saar (U) — French Premier Edgar Faure and German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer moved swiftly today to counter a crisis brewing between their two nations as a result of the Saar's 2-1 rejection of the plan to Europeanize the rich industrial valley.

Faure and Adenauer exchanged telegrams expressing their conviction that the outcome of the Saar plebiscite yesterday must not be allowed to upset relations between France and West Germany.

But already the vote had toppled the Saar's pro-French premier and heightened demands from other German leaders for return of the German-speaking coal and steel territory the Reich held before World War II.

In Bonn, the West German government called for "a new solution of the Saar." A communique issued after a Cabinet meeting said this new solution "must serve German-French cooperation and the aim of European unity."

The communique left open the question of whether another attempt to settle the ancient dispute should be made by France and Germany alone or whether it should be put to the newly created seven-nation West European Union.

In seeking a new solution the "overwhelming will of the Saar population must be taken into account," the communique said.

A whopping 96.72 per cent of all eligible Saarlanders went to the polls yesterday and turned down the European status plan 423,434 (67.7 per cent) to 201,973 (32.3 per cent).

There were no incidents during the balloting after a turbulent three-month campaign. The borders of the tiny area between France and Germany were sealed to prevent possible infiltration by agitators. A five-nation neutral commission supervised the voting.

Within minutes after the final returns were reported early today, Premier Johannes Hoffmann announced he was resigning "out of respect for the will of the people." He promised immediate parliamentary elections certain to set up a new government pledged to work for speedy reunion of the Saar with Germany.

Hoffmann said he would serve until a new parliament is elected but pro-German leaders met this morning and said they would not accept him as a caretaker head of government. Instead they proposed Heinrich Welsch, chairman of the executive board of the Saar railroads.

Hoffmann, 64, has been in power since 1947. By defeating the Europeanization statute—which had taken five years to work out in Paris and Bonn—the Saarlanders inflicted a bitter humiliation on the French and raised a grim question mark over French-German relations.

The Europeanization plan would have put the Saar's defense and foreign relations under a neutral commissioner of the seven-nation Western European Union while maintaining its customs and currency union with France. The statute was signed by West German Chancellor Konrad Adenauer in Paris a year ago as the price for French agreement to West German rearmament.

Three Drown in Pool

TALLULAH FALLS, Ga. (U)—A 12-year-old boy, his father and a relative drowned in a pool in Tallulah Gorge while on a sightseeing trip yesterday.

Members of the families said Ronald Elrod toppled into the 10-foot-deep pool first. His father Carlton Elrod, 34, jumped in to get him, but was unable to climb out over the slippery rocks. Thomas Greenon, 33, Elrod's brother-in-law leaped down to help them, lost his balance and fell in.

Other members of the families were unable to reach them.

HOMEWARD BOUND? — Roman Catholic Bishop James Edward Walsh, above, may be ordered to leave Communist China, according to reports from Hong Kong. Reds say that he may leave any time he applies for an exit permit, but the American prelate is reluctant to leave his flock of native and European Catholics behind the Bamboo Curtain. Authorities fear his willingness to remain in Red China may be twisted by the Reds for propaganda purposes. (NEA Telephoto)

Charged With Murder In Warsaw Death

Hollie Martin Jailed In Fatal Shooting Of Harold Thurman

A first-degree murder charge was filed Saturday in Benton County against Hollie William Martin, 40, in connection with the death of Harold Thurman, Warsaw.

Thurman, 37-year-old divorced father of two children was shot Friday night in Martin's home near Fristoe, 12 miles southwest of Warsaw.

Sheriff Oliver White of Benton County said he had not learned the nature of the argument that resulted in the shooting.

Martin was arrested Friday night after Floyd Lindsey reported a shooting in the Martin home. Lindsey had accompanied Thurman to the Martin home earlier in the day and was in the house at the time of the incident.

Wounded in the shooting was Charles D. Culbert, 14-year-old stepson of the accused. Culbert was shot in the arm during a scuffle with Martin over the gun, it was reported by the Benton County sheriff's office.

After his arrest, Martin was placed in the Benton County jail. He is still confined there.

Martin is married and has five stepchildren. His wife and four of the stepchildren were at the house when the incident occurred.

News Flashes

Snafu Cost 200 Million

WASHINGTON (U)—House investigators today placed at 200 million dollars the cost of Navy snafu in ordering F3H "Demon" fighter planes with jet engines too weak to power them.

James F. Eckhart and Earl J. Morgan, staff investigators, gave that figure to a House Government Operations subcommittee. Asked if there would be any salvage, they said that was a factor unknown to them.

Thieves Raid Atomic Project

ALBUQUERQUE (U) — Daring bank thieves invaded one of the nation's most heavily guarded atomic projects over the weekend and burglarized a branch bank of $46,500.

Officials of the branch of the Bank of New Mexico on Sandia Base here found the front door ripped open this morning.

Eye Missouri As a Federal Prison Site

Brownell Makes Plans For a Maximum Security Type Jail

WASHINGTON (U) — Atty. Gen. Brownell's statement to newsmen in Denver that President Eisenhower approved plans for a maximum security type federal prison somewhere in the Midwest may bring renewed efforts to locate it in Missouri.

Federal Prison Director James V. Bennett told a House Appropriations subcommittee during the last session of Congress that no decision had been made on a site for the institution, if Congress should provide requested appropriations.

But, he told the committee, it would be "within the area, I should judge, of Illinois, Missouri, Western Indiana or in that vicinity."

The last session of Congress however provided no funds for the project.

Some persons in south central Missouri have suggested the institution be located in that area. The subject of the new prison, which would have an estimated cost of 94 million dollars, again was mentioned after Brownell discussed a Justice Department program with the President in Denver last week.

Brownell said the program includes recommendations to Congress for the appointment of additional federal judges where needed in line with recommendations of a judicial conference.

Kansas is among the states included in a pending omnibus bill which would be given one additional federal judge if the legislation became law. Kansas congressional sources said there has been no fight against the proposal for the third Kansas judge.

Official Canvass Of Missouri Special Election Tomorrow

JEFFERSON CITY (U)—The official canvass of Missouri's special election voting in the Oct. 4 school aid referendum will start in Secy. of State Walter Toberman's office tomorrow morning.

Will Davis, chief clerk, said it was hoped the count could be completed in one day.

Voting was the lightest in more than 30 years and there were only two issues on the ballot—a two-cent package cigarette tax and a new "foundation plan" for distributing school aid. Both were approved by big margins.

Coldest Weather This Season Hits Missouri

KANSAS CITY (U)—A surge of polar air hit Missouri Sunday, bringing the coldest weather of the season to much of the state.

The Weather Bureau is forecasting colder weather for the east and south this afternoon with frost or freezing temperatures in the southeast portion tonight. Tuesday will be warmer after lows of 28-35 in the southeast and the lower 40s in the northwest.

Some of the lows this morning included: Kirksville 28, Butler 30, Rolla 31, Springfield 32, and Sedalia 33.

A low pressure trough is expected to move into the western plains area tonight bringing a warming trend Tuesday and Wednesday.

They Testify at First of Hearing Series—

Minnesota Dairymen Unhappy Over Milk Prices, But Far Apart on Ideas of Remedy

ST. PAUL, Minn. (U)—Minnesota dairymen told a Senate Agriculture Committee hearing today that they are unhappy over milk prices, but they were far apart on what should be done to help stabilize their industry.

Testifying at the first of a series of hearings the committee will hold throughout the country, some farmer spokesmen blamed inadequate government help, while some said there had been too much government "interference."

Some wanted higher government price guarantees for milk, some wanted to lower barriers that restrict movement of milk from Midwestern surplus areas to big city markets, while others urged government production payments.

During the course of the hearing, the committee heard a suggestion that it and other political leaders keep hands off the farm problem.

Delbert Best, dairyman of Manakato, declared the question of government price supports has "become a support program for politicians. Too many politicians vote the way they think it would give them the most votes, rather than the way that would be best for the farmer and the country."

Police Officer Gives First Contribution To L. Whiteman Fund

The first letter to be received in the Chamber of Commerce office with a contribution of $2 for the L. George A. Whiteman Memorial Portrait Fund was from Charles Ellis, 1605 South Vermont.

"As a police officer of the city of Sedalia, Mo.," Ellis wrote, "I can recall that day when the Japanese attacked Pearl Harbor. I was with the W.P.A. as steward and cook. There were lots of boys and men working on the Fort Leonard Wood Camp. I had three of my boys overseas at the time. I hope that my $2 will help get the ball rolling."

The Sedalia Chamber of Commerce, 113 East Fourth, is acting as an agency for the citizens of Sedalia who would like to give to the fund for portraits of L. Whiteman in color and framed in mahogany which will be presented to the Base Headquarters, Wing Headquarters, Non-Commissioned Officers Club, Service Club, base hospital and Officers Club at the Whiteman Air Force Base. The base was recently re-named for L. Whiteman. A portrait will also be given L. Whiteman's mother.

Two Accidents Smash Autos On Hiway 65

Kansas City Man Is Critically Hurt; Another Is Bruised

John Cady, 36, Kansas City, is in a critical condition at Windsor Hospital from injuries as a result of a one-car accident on Highway 65 about one-half mile south of the Windsor Junction about 4:50 p.m. Sunday.

Cady was enroute north on Highway 65 in a long line of traffic when he pulled out and started passing several cars. Ahead of him another car pulled out to start passing and was in front of Cady.

When the car pulled out start passing in front of Cady, Cady pulled to the left and took to the ditch to avoid striking the other car. The Cady car, a 1955 Pontiac hardtop sedan, rolled over twice and was smashed.

The driver was riding alone in his car. He suffered back injuries, cuts, bruise, and a severe chest injury. He was rushed to Windsor Hospital in the Huston-Turner ambulance where Dr. C. M. Thurber rendered medical treatment.

It was necessary to relay blood from the blood bank at Springfield to be administered to the injured man.

The car was towed to Sedalia by the Hamlin wrecker.

Saturday night Robert Lester Pettit, 22, suffered minor hurts when his car left a curve about two miles south of the Junction of Highways 40 and 65, on Highway 65, and crashed down an embankment.

Pettit was driving a 1951 Buick convertible and headed south, returning to Sedalia from the Marshall junction, when he came up on the curve.

He told State Trooper Pete Stohr of the Highway Patrol, "The last thing I remember something got into my eye and I crashed."

The car struck a tree and was demolished.

Pettit suffered a cut on the right cheek and bruises. He was treated at his home by Dr. Donald C. Proctor.

Pettit will remain at his home for several days before returning to Kansas City, where he is a student at Stevenson's Electrical and Refrigeration School.

The car was towed to Sedalia by the Bacon wrecker.

Planes For Senators—Indignant Politicians Deny Asking for Special Planes

WASHINGTON (U)—Two indignant Democratic senators flew back from Europe today, demanding the Pentagon explain its assertion that special planes had to be sent after them and other members of their party at a cost of $20,000.

Firmly denying they ever asked any special transportation, Sens. McClellan of Arkansas and Stennis of Mississippi voiced their indignation after disembarking from a regularly scheduled Military Air Transport Service Constellation that brought them and 42 others from Paris.

Both said they expect top Defense Department officials to give an explanation of stories last week that they declined to adjust their schedules to travel on regular flights.

Referring to the Republican-run Pentagon, McClellan declared: "If there was any intent to embarrass me, I positively refuse to be embarrassed by it. It's their mistake—there's no mistake on our part."

Stennis declared he would seek an explanation from Secretary of Defense Wilson—now in Europe for the Big Four meeting—or from whatever top officials are available at the Pentagon.

"I think they'll make a correction," Stennis declared. "I think they'll explain the facts."

The plane specially dispatched to fetch them from Madrid stayed in Europe.

Stennis was accompanied by his wife. McClellan's wife is due on a later plane.

McClellan described himself as "completely mystified" by the Pentagon announcement that he and other senators in Europe and the Middle East on inspection junkets had demanded special planes.

"The whole purpose of our using Air Force planes was to save money," the Arkansas senator said.

Hearings Start Today on Naval Jet Planes

WASHINGTON (U)—House investigators slated hearings today to find out why 60 jet planes were built for the Navy without enough engine power to fly right.

Chairman Hollifield (D-Calif.) said his House Government Operations subcommittee would begin with reports from committee investigators who visited the plants of the McDonnell Aircraft Co., which built the F3H-1 fighter jet plane, and Westinghouse Electric Corp., producer of its jet engine found not powerful enough.

Hollifield said his group probably will then go into closed session for that part of the testimony the Navy classes as secret.

The F3H project got under way early in the Korean War.

Secretary of the Navy Thomas, one of those invited to testify, said over the weekend that 60 of the early model Demon F3H-1s costing some 154 million dollars have been grounded because they can't be refitted with sufficiently powerful engines.

But he said the Navy hopes to see 220 of a later model, the F3H-2, equipped with a redesigned Allison J71 engine so that it will be a good all-weather plane. He said the later model has passed most of its suitability tests and delivery is expected in 1956.

Lodge Meets With Ike On UN Situation

To Brief President On France Quitting World Assembly

DENVER (U)—Ambassador Henry Cabot Lodge Jr., arrived today to report to President Eisenhower on United Nations affairs—including France's withdrawal from the U.N. General Assembly.

Lodge, chief of this country's delegation to the United Nations, was met at Lowry Air Force Base by the President's chief aide, Sherman Adams, and they drove immediately to Fitzsimons Army Hospital where Eisenhower is recovering from a heart attack.

In reply to questions at the airport, Lodge said he had come to Denver "to bring the President up-to-date on the situation in the United Nations."

Asked whether he intended to discuss France's withdrawal from the U. N. General Assembly in a dispute over the debate of the Algerian question, the ambassador replied:

"I expect to discuss everything. There are an awful lot of things. Alluding specifically then to the question of France and the United Nations, Lodge said:

"I expect to discuss that too." There have been no public indications that Eisenhower had been filled in, prior to the conference with Lodge, on France's withdrawal from the U. N. Secretary of State Dulles has conferred with the President twice since the chief executive was hospitalized, and after both meetings Dulles told newsmen that he had not discussed that matter with the President.

Lodge arrived in Denver against the background of unqualified support for Dulles in advance of the Big Four foreign ministers conference opening in Geneva Thursday.

An early morning bulletin from the hospital reported that the President was continuing to progress steadily at the start of this busiest week for the chief executive since he was stricken Sept. 24.

US Foreign Aid Drops

WASHINGTON (U)—United States net foreign aid dropped 760 million dollars in the 12 months ended last June 30. The total net foreign aid spending figure was 4 1/2 billion dollars.

Governor Designates Friday Veterans Day

JEFFERSON CITY (U) — Gov. Phil M. Donnelly today designated Friday, Nov. 11, as Veterans' Day in Missouri to honor the veterans of all of America's wars. It is a legal holiday in this state.

"On that day," the governor said, "let us solemnly remember the sacrifices of all those who fought so valiantly to preserve our heritage of freedom, and let us consecrate ourselves to the task of promoting an enduring peace so that their efforts shall not have been in vain."

Jury Invites Police To Suggest Methods

ST. LOUIS (U) — A circuit court grand jury has invited police officials to suggest methods to prevent a recurrence of conditions which led to an investigation into alleged payoffs to some officers by brothel operators.

"The jury members were unanimous in feeling we would like to do something other than merely indicting or not indicting policemen," said John Casey, foreman.

It Lasts Two Full Minutes; Big Damage

Elderly Woman Dies After Her Apartment Goes Up In Flames

SAN FRANCISCO (U) — Aftershocks continued early today from the sharp, jolting earthquake which struck the San Francisco Bay area at 8:11 o'clock last night.

No new damage occurred. The cost of repairing the damage caused by the big shock will run into the thousands of dollars. It upset the Sunday-evening calm of a broad area from Sacramento to San Jose.

Shocks were recorded at 10:04 last night and at 12:18 and 1:45 a.m. today.

It was the second damaging quake in the area within seven weeks.

Windows shattered, telephone lines went dead, statues fell from niches in a chapel, dishes fell from shelves and overhead lights swayed dizzily.

At Oakland, an apartment house fire started soon after the quake and burned to death an 85-year-old woman, Ora Bell. Tom Dolan, a battalion fire chief, estimated damage at $25,000 and said the fire was "definitely caused by a gas explosion."

Ruth Aldinger, 40, jumped out of a second story window during the fire and suffered serious injuries.

Oakland firemen also blamed the quake for a $3,000 house fire. Battalion Chief Bernard Dooley said it either cracked gas pipes or extinguished a pilot light, causing an explosion. Manuel Ortega was hit by flying glass and injured slightly.

At Sonoma, the Buena Vista Winery said the jolt shifted a 1,200-gallon wine cask in its cradle. A seaman split and, until workmen caulked it, a geyser of wine sprayed out. There was not much loss.

Pacific Gas and Electric Co. said a neighborhood substation in Walnut Creek: went out of service temporarily. The firm said that probably two live wires brushed together.

Two pinball devotees declared the jolt was strong enough to "tilt" the machines they were playing.

Dr. Charles Richter at California Institute of Technology said his seismograph at Pasadena rated the tremor at 5.5, "enough to cause damage in the immediate area of source."

Father John Weber at Santa Clara University reported the quake had a Richter rating of 4 and said it was 50 miles away, which would put its center in the San Francisco area.

Warsaw Man Plunges Down 400-foot Bluff

WARSAW, Mo. (U) — Forty-nine year old Lawrence Lay, a resort operator, took a wrong turn on a road near here Saturday night and his jeep plunged down a 400-foot bluff.

Although all he suffered was a broken nose and lacerations, he was forced to spend the night on the shore of the Lake of the Ozarks when he couldn't find a way up. A boatman found him in the morning and took him to a doctor.

Did any of that really bother him? Not at all.

"The only thing that made me mad," Lay said, "was that I lost my cigaret lighter on the way down that bluff and had to sit there all night without a smoke."

United Fund Total Rises to $12,304

A total of $12,304.31 has been collected through the United Fund Drive in Sedalia and Pettis County, or approximately 20 per cent of the $60,000 goal.

Patrol Warns Not Too Push Luck Too Far

"If you have occasionally violated the traffic laws of Missouri and have not been arrested or involved in a traffic accident you have been lucky, but don't push your luck too far," warned Col. Hugh H. Waggoner, superintendent of the Missouri State Highway Patrol.

During the first eight months of this year the members of the Patrol arrested or warned 95,000 persons for violating Missouri's traffic laws. Arrests for careless driving were 25 per cent higher than for the same period of last year. The fines and court costs resulting from arrests by the Patrol this year totaled nearly 800 thousand dollars. But, despite this increase in enforcement, traffic fatalities are continuing to climb. Up to October 17, there have been 791 persons killed in traffic accidents in Missouri. This is 55 more than were killed in the same period of last year.

"Our officers do not enjoy arresting drivers for traffic violations," said Col. Waggoner, "but it seems that it is the only way to control many drivers, who due to improper attitude or lack of judgment, commit unsafe driving acts which endanger the lives of other highway users. Traffic accidents are caused by violations of traffic laws and the common sense rules of safe driving. Many of those drivers who have been arrested and required to pay fines are more fortunate than those who have been involved in accidents due to their carelessness. The members of the Patrol will continue to strictly enforce all traffic laws in the hope that careless drivers will be apprehended and adequately punished before they become involved in an accident which might well kill or maim an innocent person."

Louis Rosenthal
Louis Rosenthal, 66, 604 West Sixth, well-known Sedalian, whose lifetime from childhood was spent here, died at 3:30 a.m. Monday at Menorah Hospital, Kansas City, after declining health for over a year.

Mr. Rosenthal, many years associated in business with the Rosenthal store, had been in retirement the past few years and was a familiar personage about town, always meeting and greeting acquaintances with cheerful exchanges in conversation.

Sedalia was his home and he loved it. When other members of the family left for Kansas City to reside, he gave a deaf ear to the entreaties to join them and in his last illness told doctors and hospital attendants if they'd let him go home to Sedalia "he'd be all right."

Son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Solomon Rosenthal, he was born in St. Joseph Oct. 14, 1892, and when a child came to Sedalia with his parents, remaining here during the intervening years.

He was a member of Temple Bethel, Sedalia, the B'nai Brith and took part in services and activities of those bodies.

Surviving are these brothers and sisters: Joseph L. Rosenthal, Mrs. Ida Dolgoff, both of Kansas City; Ned Rosenthal, Carthage; and Mrs. Nicholas Rodman, New Rochelle, N.Y.

The body was brought to Sedalia and taken to the McLaughlin Funeral Chapel. Funeral services will be held there at 11 a.m. Tuesday with a rabbi from Kansas City to conduct the rites.

Accidents

Earl Atwood, 20, Sweet Springs, lost control of a motor car on highway 40 late Saturday at the highway 5 junction near Boonville after trying to pass a truck.

Witnesses told Trooper C. M. Price that Atwood, driving east, sought vainly to regain control but after about 225 feet the vehicle went on its left side, plowed a furrow down the right shoulder, then plunged into a foot of water in a shallow pool.

Witnesses called an ambulance before Atwood emerged topside with a badly cut left elbow. He declined medical aid but rode the ambulance to a bus station in Boonville to continue his trip to Columbia to keep a date he told the patrol.

Mrs. Elda J. Keith, 65, 322 West Fifth, suffered minor injuries about 8:35 a. m. Monday in an automobile accident at Fifth and Lamine. Others in vehicles involved were not hurt.

Mrs. Keith was driving a 1931 Nash sedan, which was going east on Fifth, and Mrs. Lula Stark, 200 South Quincy was driving a 1932 Chevrolet sedan, which was going north on Lamine, when the vehicles collided.

The right front portion of the Nash was damaged and the left side of the Chevrolet damaged. Mrs. Keith suffered a bruised right knee. She was treated at the Bothwell Hospital.

Two automobiles were damaged in a collision at Second and Washington about 9 a. m. Monday. Occupants of the vehicles escaped injuries.

Involved was a 1931 Pontiac sedan driven by Mrs. Don Broadus, 500 East Fifth, which was going east on Second and a 1931 Chevrolet pickup truck driven by William T. Booth, 1620 East Tenth which was headed north on Washington.

The right rear fender and side of the Pontiac were damaged and the front bumper and bumper shield on the truck smashed.

Four persons were injured Sunday morning when the car in which they were riding turned over four times after hitting loose gravel on Highway 5, south of Boonville. Injured in the accident were Mr.

and Mrs. Frankie Kutenkuler, A-2c Bill Wolf and Mrs. Billie Boyles, all of Tipton. Mr. Boyles, also riding in the car, escaped injury. Kutenkulers and Wolf were thrown from the car.

The accident occurred at 12:30 Sunday morning near the bridge that spans Petite Saline creek. The injured were taken by ambulance to the St. Joseph hospital in Boonville. Mrs. Kutenkuler required five stitches in her head and suffered from loss of blood. Her husband suffered from shock and bruises. Mr. Boyles received a slight concussion and a possible hip fracture. Wolf sustained bruises and a cut near the right eye requiring several stitches.

Wolf and Boyles were released after receiving treatment. The others were held in the hospital. The car, a 1935 Buick sedan, was taken to the Miller Motors, Tipton.

Three persons received minor injuries about 11:20 a.m. Sunday when the car they were riding in missed a curve on North State Fair Blvd. at the T. W. Cloney Farm and overturned. The car was badly damaged.

The 1941 Chevrolet tudor was driven by Everett Junior Jackson, 41, 929 North Osage, and was headed east on the blacktop road. As it reached the curve, Jackson said, he wasn't driving too fast but came up on it too quickly to make the turn.

The car skidded, the bottom portion on the right side struck the concrete culvert, flipped on its left side and skidded up the ditch several feet. The top of the car struck a fence post, keeping it from turning completely over.

Riding in the car were Leslie Reed, 31, 412 West Pettis, who was not hurt; George Clay, Lamine and Jefferson, who was cut on his arm; and Willie Huston, 519 North Osage, who was cut on his head. Jackson received a cut back of his right ear. They were treated by Dr. A. R. Maddox.

Trooper Pete Stohr of the State Highway Patrol investigated the accident.

Mrs. Joseph Whitlow, 31, Smithton, suffered minor hurts Saturday night when her car and a tractor collided about six miles southeast of Sedalia on the Abell Road. Her car, a 1949 Packard sedan, was extensively damaged on the front end while no damage resulted to the tractor.

Trooper Pete Stohr made the investigation. According to Stohr, Mrs. Whitlow was headed south on the gravel road going into a curve when a tractor pulling a farm wagon loaded with children on a hayride came up a side road backing into the main highway.

The lights on the tractor, according to Trooper Stohr, were bright and Mrs. Whitlow kept pulling to the right to miss the vehicle and crashed into the left rear wheel of the tractor. None of the children on the wagon were injured nor was the driver of the tractor, William Henry Eye, 17, Route 2, Sedalia.

The 1941 John Deere farm tractor belongs to the youth's father, U. S. Eye.

The wrecked tractor was towed in by the Chamberlin wrecker. Police made an investigation.

Thieves broke into the Jockey Club on south Limit sometime early today and stole beer valued at $50, about $35 worth of whiskeys of various brands, three dollars in pennies.

The police reported checking the Club about 6:30 a.m. Monday and everything was in order. Jack Austin, the owner, opened up about 9:50 a.m. and found the place had been entered.

A screen had been ripped from a window at the rear of the building, opened the window through which entrance was gained.

The robbery occurred sometime between the time the police checked the place and when Austin opened up. An investigation is being made.

The Osage Fish Market, 1012 North Osage, was broken into by thieves sometime since Saturday night and Monday morning.

The thieves stole $2 in pennies, 12 cartons of cigarettes, six cartons of bubble gum, and chewing gum, some cakes, peanuts, cough drops, writing tablets, lead pencils and other merchandise.

Entrance was gained to a door on the south side of the building and the rear side of the building. A screen door was cut off, and the door forced open by being pried with a lug wrench.

Mrs. L. E. Sheridan, president, presided over the meeting. She opened the meeting by welcoming all eighth-grade parents who were attending their first high school PTA. An inspiring devotion was given.

Following the adoption of the budget, Mrs. Howard Gwinn, parent education chairman, made the announcement that there would be a joint meeting on Nov. 15 at the First Baptist Church, starting with a dessert luncheon at 1 p.m.

The program was then turned over to Mrs. Nathalia Poynter, program chairman, who introduced Mr. and Mrs. Philip McLaughlin, who are responsible for bringing Judith Blythin, English exchange student to Sedalia. Judith made a short talk at which time she thanked everyone for making it possible that she be here. She said she found conditions very favorable in Sedalia.

Forrest Drake, principal, was then called upon to introduce the teachers.

Mrs. Sheridan then introduced the hospitality committee which is composed of Mrs. Leon White,
Mrs. George Arquette, Miss Gwendolyn Tuck, and Miss Mary Maddox.

The business meeting adjourned and all went to the cafeteria where refreshments were served and parents sat at the tables with the home room teachers of their children. During the social hour entertainment was furnished with Hugh J. Nes as the singing master of ceremonies with Vera Jones at the piano.

Mr. Jones opened the program by singing the "PTA Song." Janice Walker sang and tap danced the number "On the Good Ship Lollipop." The next number was "Balling the Jack" by Elaine and Terry Hertzog. These three students are from the Harper School of Dance.

The master of ceremonies then presented the Smith-Cotton Sextette composed of Sandra Maune, Ardith Dunham, Roselee Moore,
Nancy Pace, Pat Aldridge and Judy Case, who sang three numbers, "Rose Marie," "In an Old Girls! Girls!"

Girls dressed in formal with cigarette boxes gave the membership drive publicity by taking memberships during the evening.
The girls were: Kay Jacobi, Bethany Potter, Marilyn Goldman, Virginia Chamberlin and Virginia
Buso. The membership drive opened officially Friday and will continue until Nov. 4, with the hopes of topping last year's 504 members.

An executive meeting preceded the business meeting at which time various reports were given by the chairman.

Emerson Matthews, treasurer, reported a balance on hand of $186.87.

William Ferguson, Cape Girardeau, who spent the weekend

Helicopter Is Demonstrated At Windsor

By Mrs. Leonard Phifer
WINDSOR — Windsor students received quite a thrill when they got their first close-up view of the operation of a helicopter
Tuesday when the National Guard
"windmill" stationed at Warrensburg was demonstrated on the school grounds. Major John Crory, accompanied by Sgt. Calvin Studebaker and Sgt. Cecil Speas, brought the plane to Windsor.

Major Crory spoke to the Lions Club at its luncheon at the noon hour. He stated that the helicopter cost $35,000 and it costs $55 an hour to operate it. He said there are only two such craft based in Missouri, the one at Warrensburg and another in Kansas City.

Mrs. John T. Campbell was given a birthday surprise dinner
Sunday at the Campbell home

ent to help her celebrate were:

Housewife Is Again at Odds With Index Statisticians

By SAM DAWSON

NEW YORK (AP)—The housewife pushing the grocery cart is at odds again with the statisticians who figure the food price index.

The housewife is told the whole-sale index is down but she can't see that the retail food prices are—at least not much.

It's largely the old story of the spread between the price of the raw materials out of which foods are fashioned and the finished products on the grocer's shelves. That spread like others, tends to widen with the years.

The grocer insists the housewife's getting more for her money today—if she takes into consideration all the fringe benefits of convenience, time saving and improved nutrition in today's prepared foods.

The government's wholesale farm product price index is well below the 1947-49 base. The government's wholesale food price index is about even with that pre-Korean war level. But the government's retail food price index in September was 11.6 per cent higher. Although nicely down from its peak of two years ago.

Dun & Bradstreet's wholesale food price index is the lowest since June, 1950, when the Korean war started. The housewife finds this hard to believe because she says the prices she pays certainly aren't.

The D. & B. index is a rough and ready indicator. It isn't supposed to be definitive nor a cost of living index. The index is the sum of the price of a pound each of 31 foodstuffs. Included are lard, steers, hogs, barley, cottonseed oil. Few housewives would buy a pound of these each week.

Food prices, at every level, have come down from their peak. They fluctuate now. Some foodstuffs, like coffee or storm damaged vegetables, go up because of temporary shortages. Some, like pork, tumble because of oversupply.

But what the consumer mostly talks about is that the price of farm products and of foods at wholesale have fallen more than retail prices—and it's retail prices that interest him primarily.

The grocer, and food processors have their arguments handy. They are aware that the consumers suspect profit taking as the villain. Paul S. Willis, president of Grocery Manufacturers of America, says only a small amount of the retail price is represented by manufacturer and distributor net profits.

He says, "their combined profit today is down to around three cents of the consumer's food dollar; it was six cents before World War II." And he insists that food prices have declined in terms of wages, that "an hour's work will buy more and better food than ever before."

Food handlers also quote Department of Agriculture figures to show that payment to workers for assembling, processing, transporting, distributing farm food products was 46 per cent of the total cost of marketing in 1946 but is now 54 per cent. Modern "convenience foods" cost more in freezing, prepackaging, slicing pre-cooking, packing. Transportation costs have gone up.

Daily fluctuations on the Chicago Board of Trade in the prices of the raw materials of tomorrow's victuals may mean little at the grocery. The cost of grain, for example, is a small percentage of the price of bread. And flour mills hedge on the market to even out daily price changes.

There is also a time lag between raw material price changes and those of finished products. A cynic may think that the time lag is slight when farm prices are rising, and likely to be longer when they're falling.

But this is "Farm-City Week" aimed at making each understand the other better. It's that spread actually that causes most of the ill feeling on either side.

Big Three Envoys Meet On Strategy

PARIS (AP)—The foreign ministers of the Western Big Three meet here today to put the final polish on the strategy for their Geneva talks with the Soviet Union on German unification, European security and disarmament.

Moshe Sharett, Israel's prime minister, was all set to toss in their laps a frying-hot issue: What are they going to do about the sale of arms by the Soviet bloc to Egypt?

Overnight two other thorny problems arose and were likely to be thrust into their consultations. These were:

1. The collapse in the Saar plebiscite of Western plans to "Europeanize" that frontier valley as a keystone of French-German reconciliation; and

2. The overwhelming victory of Premier Ngo Dinh Diem of South Viet Nam over chief of state Bao Dai in a referendum. This virtually eliminated any possibility of a unification election in Indochina as provided by the 1954 Geneva armistice conference at which the British and Russian foreign ministers were co-chairmen.

U. S. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, British Foreign Secretary Harold Macmillan and French Foreign Minister Antoine Pinay will meet with Soviet Foreign Minister V. M. Molotov in Geneva Thursday in the first effort to translate the "Geneva spirit" of last summer's summit conference into concrete agreements at the working level.

Dulles, Macmillan and Pinay planned to align their views into a joint policy in sessions today and then seek the endorsement of all other partners of the Atlantic Alliance at an NATO session tomorrow.

Commemorates Tenth Annual UN Day With Hope of Unification

SEOUL (AP)—South Korea commemorated the 10th United Nations Day today with a renewed bid for unification of the divided peninsula at the earliest possible date.

"We demand unification of Korea and re-emphasize that it should not be delayed any longer from the standpoint of our survival," the U. N. Assn. of Korea declared in a resolution to the U. N. General Assembly.

President Syngman Rhee paid tribute to the Allied dead of the Korean War in a message:

"Real peace will come to the world if the men buried here are not forgotten."

Gen I. D. White, commander of the U. S. 8th Army in Korea, told the anniversary crowd of more than 2,000 in Seoul:

"The victory is not secure so long as there remain those who would enslave their fellowmen."

Genuine interest of Sedalians in further tribute to Lieut. George A. Whiteman for whom the Air Force Base west of Sedalia was named October 1, is evidenced by a community-wide movement to provide portraits of the airman and a bronze plaque for the base.

Cost of the portraits will be $450. They will be for Base Headquarters, Wing Headquarters, Non-Commissioned Officers Club, Service Club, Base Hospital, Officers Club and for Lieut. Whiteman's mother.

A Memorial Portrait Fund has been established by the Sedalia Chamber of Commerce and contributions small or large may be sent to Chamber headquarters.

The Sedalia Kiwanis club has accepted responsibility of providing a bronze plaque with suitable inscription as a gift to the Whiteman Air Force Base — not from the club but from the citizens of Sedalia. Voluntary contributions to this fund which will also require approximately $450, are invited. To obtain a suitable plaque in time for the December 3 dedication of the base under its new name, the Kiwanis Club agreed to proceed with the understanding it would be a project in which the entire community may participate.

The same procedure is being followed by the Chamber of Commerce. The portraits have been ordered produced. This will require several weeks. In the meantime those who desire to contribute may do so by using the coupon published in Sunday's Democrat-Capital, or send in name and address and cash enclosure to the Chamber of Commerce, 113 East Fourth street.

Those sponsoring the tributes are hopeful the fund raised will be an expression of participation by many rather than a few Sedalians. An influx of nickels, dimes and quarters is rather to be desired than money gifts in large amount from a few.

In any event the projects are secure financially and presentation of the tributes will occur December 3 under present plans. On that date it is expected Sedalians will further pay honor to the memory of Lieut. Whiteman by attendance at the ceremonies.

Washington Merry-Go-Round—

Lobbying Held Up Flood Control Plans

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—Thousands of words have been written about the tragedy that swept through New England twice this year. Hundreds of photos have been published, hours of radio and TV time have been devoted to the homeless, the pathos, the misery.

But in those words there has been almost nothing about the back-stage lobbying and the power-company politics that has left New England defenseless against floods. While the Tennessee Valley has stopped its flood ravages, while the Ohio River has lessened its disasters, and while the Missouri and Mississippi are not the dangers they once were, New England has remained unprotected.

Here, chapter by chapter, is the untold story behind repeated floods, behind high electric power rates, and why New England industry has moved south.

1927—Over 10 inches of rain hit the northeast in three days. . . . The Connecticut River turned into an inland sea. . . . In Springfield, Mass., 10,000 people were homeless. . . . Western Vermont was worst hit.

A year later, in 1928, independent studies by Massachusetts Tech Professor H. K. Barrows and a group of Boston civil engineers showed that big flood-control dams are too costly by themselves. Their solution: regional dams tied to power plants, with state aid in financing.

But the utilities opposed. Said Vermont's George Aiken, then a Republican state legislator: such dams would make state officials "virtual dictators of the economic life of the districts."

Said the Massachusetts department of public works: There are "no conditions at present which in flood stages of the river threaten serious damage or loss of life. . . . The department, therefore, makes no recommendation for legislation."

TVA For New England

1936—The rains hit again. . . . Over 77,000 were homeless. . . . Alarmed congress passed the Flood-Control Act, including proposals for a series of multi-purpose projects on the Connecticut River capable of generating power and preventing floods. . . . States were asked to draw up interstate compacts, permitting regional cooperation with the federal government.

Connecticut, Massachusetts, New Hampshire and Vermont drew up such a compact, but there was a joker. Negotiating for Vermont an insular lawyer and lobbyist named Walter S. Fenton. Dominating the New Hampshire delegation was Robert W. Upton, a registered lobbyist for New Hampshire Gas & Electric, Meredith Electric, Pemigewasset Electric, and Goodrich Falls Electric. He was also attorney for the Howard C. Hopson's Associated Gas and Electric system.

Chairman of the New England joint commission on flood control was Henry I. Harman, founder of the New England Power Association, also an ex-director of the New England Gas and Electric Association and of the National Electric Light Association.

It was no surprise therefore that the four-state compact denied the federal government the right to develop power resources, also denied it the right to take title to the lands on which the flood-control facilities would be built. Said Vermont's George Aiken, then governor, now senator: "The administration is trying to dominate the people of every state through the control of every dollar's worth of natural resources within those states."

Said Massachusetts Attorney General Paul Dever, Democrat: "It's an injury to the individualistic spirit of Massachusetts." Later, as Governor, Dever changed his mind. Henry Cabot Lodge, Republican, also opposed it.

Result: Congress kept its $300,000,000, pigeon-holed the compact, refused to saddle taxpayers with costly dams that could never be tied to revenue-producing power plants. New England got no multipurpose dams, though later the Army Engineers built five more small flood-control dams.

Ribicoff Repeats

1937—President Roosevelt revived a New England "little TVA" for the Connecticut River valley. New England lawmakers, including Rep. Charles W. Tobey and Sen. Stiles Bridges of New Hampshire, voiced their opposition.

In 1949-50 President Truman pushed a TVA for New York and New England and to that end created the New England - New York Inter-Agency Committee. Floods had threatened New England almost every spring. Power rates continued among the highest in the nation. Because of cheap southern power, New England industry was moving south.

This time newly elected governors, Chester Bowles of Connecticut and Paul Dever of Massachusetts, who had changed his mind, worked with Gov. Ernest Gibson of Vermont, Republican. They revised and revamped the four-state flood compact so that the power benefits from multi-purpose dams went to the people, not to the utilities.

However, their plan was stymied. One man who helped stymie it was Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire, now in the White House. His representative on the committee, Walter White, was determined and vehement. "This nation," said White on Nov. 15, 1951, "is following the irresistible promises of a lunacy doctrine. We are finding ourselves being seduced into socialism."

1955—Terrible rains again hit New England in August and October. . . . 49 dead or missing. . . . With the utilities still calling the tune, Connecticut's Democratic Gov. Abraham A. Ribicoff appointed a flood-relief commission that included Sherman Knapp, president of the Connecticut Light and Power Company.

In the end Knapp and colleagues chiefly recommended: Federal re-insurance for the insurance companies, which means the federal government would help bail out the Hartford insurance companies, a state small loan agency; and help in replacing destroyed schools.

However, no recommendation was made for preventing floods in the future. Nor has any help been recommended for private individuals whose homes were washed away, whose furniture was ruined, whose life savings may be gone and who suffer most.

Meanwhile New England risks more flood rather than be seduced by what Sherman Adams' representative calls the "irresistible promises of the lunacy doctrine" which has not brought such prosperity to the floodless Tennessee Valley.

Note—The Army Engineers asked the Justice Department for a ruling on diverting their funds from other projects to New England to make a survey for future flood control. Attorney General Brownell replied that it was permissible provided leaders of congress approved. Leaders of congress have now been queried, both Democrats and Republicans all over the USA, and have replied no. They appear fed up with past New England flood-control procrastination. It will now take three months before money can be appropriated for a survey.

The World Today—

GOP Is Up a Tree Unless President Speaks

By JAMES MARLOW

Associated Press News Analyst
WASHINGTON (AP)—The Republican party and its would-be presidents are up a tree until Jan. 1 unless before then President Eisenhower says he won't run again.

Over the weekend Dr. Paul Dudley White, the Boston Heart specialist directing Eisenhower's convalescence, said it can't be determined for another two or three months whether his patient has fully recovered.

But a full recovery doesn't mean Eisenhower will try for re-election in 1956. It would seem unlikely, having had one serious heart attack, that he would seek another four years in the White House. It's generally assumed Eisenhower won't run. Yet, until he says something one way or the other, the Republican hopefuls who would like to fill his shoes someday can hardly publicly proclaim their candidacy.

That means time lost in building their fences and lining up delegates to next summer's Republican convention. At the same time the Republican National Committee, which has to plan for the convention, will have to switch some of its plans and much of its thinking if Eisenhower doesn't run.

Until Eisenhower's heart attack in September, the Republicans were building their hopes around Eisenhower's running. He was their main hope of winning.

Apparently he still is, if not in person at least by proxy. Judging from their current statements, Republicans seem to think in terms of running on Eisenhower's record if he himself can't run.

Goodwin Knight, California's Republican governor and himself a possible candidate for president, acknowledged last night in the Meet the Press TV program there's been a lot of confusion in Republican ranks.

So until Eisenhower finally says yes or no about running again, the party and its still unannounced candidates must mark time and gnaw their fingernails. They're all in a state of suspension now.

Eisenhower knows this. And he has probably made up his mind not to run. But saying so is a matter of timing. His energies have been so restricted by his doctors he has had little time, if any, for political discussions.

He'll need time to talk things over with his advisers and the party's top politicians because of the effect of his announcement—if it's not to run—on his party and its candidates.

The big gulf that separates the thinking of some of the top Republicans, on both foreign and domestic problems, could split the party wide open before the convention unless some way is found to prevent a split.

Eisenhower may try to find that way before stepping out of the picture. For that reason, in order to have time for reflection and consultation, he may wait until January or early February before announcing his decision.

As Sedalia Sees It—

Benson May Exit Over Knotty Farm Problem

By JOSEPH A. DEAR
Democrat-Capital
Washington Correspondent

WASHINGTON—Only President Eisenhower's illness has enabled Agriculture Secretary Ezra Benson to escape the axe, according to knowledgeable sources here.

And Benson's reprieve may be temporary. The betting is that he will be an ex-Secretary before the beginning of the New Year. Erroneous reports of his impending departure have been freely circulated in the past. That would be a good reason for discontinuing current predictions, except for two solid facts:

1. About a month ago Benson told a New Orleans audience there was a direct relationship between the wage hikes won by CIO unions and the higher cost of farm equipment. This assertion earned Benson an official rebuke from the White House and a warning to stay clear of the labor field.

2. Vice-President Nixon has officially told Benson he must act. Nixon didn't tell Benson what to do, simply that he must do something. The account of Nixon's action, carried by the Des Moines Register and Tribune, shook Benson.

This flurry of activity on the Benson front accurately reflects the alarm—approaching panic—with which the Republican National Committee regards the farm situation. The GOP committee, on the basis of private surveys, has concluded a substantial portion of the farm vote is already lost. Desperate action has been urged.

Democrats concur in the GOP's analysis of the situation. Senator Estes Kefauver (D-Tenn.), who will probably announce his availability for the presidential nomination formally soon, recently said the farm issue was about the best his party had. A spokesman for Farmer's Union, which is leaning Democrat, agrees.

In short, the farm issue will almost certainly figure importantly in next year's campaign. Whether this will actually benefit farmers is problematical, however. For a solution whipped out during the fury of a campaign may prove no solution at all.

A growing body of opinion holds that readoption of rigid 90 per cent parity supports may do the farmer more harm than good. If high supports again are introduced during a period of relative international stability, the surplus problem may get out of hand entirely.

And surplus is becoming a bugaboo in the public mind. The reaction against the farmer on the part of urban citizens might be disastrous if the high support program is readopted without modification.

The fact that Benson's flexible plan has failed is not sufficient excuse for returning to a plan that was also defective. Or so one line of argument runs.

In analyzing the farm problem, it is necessary to pinpoint. Some farmers are doing very well. But one segment of the farm economy—wheat—is faced with serious troubles. Another—cotton—is almost in the same fix. And another segment—corn and livestock—is threatened. It is Benson's inactivity in the face of this last threat, incidentally, that has precipitated the latest furor.

Another question raised by the farm issue is how much is too much, or what is a surplus? According to the computations of Farmer's Union, government holdings of wheat total 975,948 bushels, and an additional 14,748 bushels is pledged for loans. Based on 1952 requirements, Farmer's Union says, this supply would last almost a year. The supply of feed grains on hand now also has been described as an overlarge surplus, but if next year's crop were as bad as 1947's the present supply would be welcome. The point is some surplus is desirable. And the question of how much, deserves more of an answer than it has gotten.

It seems pretty clear the farm problem will be a tough nut, for either party. And it may be that the government will accept the production payments scheme proposed by former Secretary of Agriculture Charles Brannan.

When Brannan first unveiled his "plan," there was an outcry about regimentation. Actually, it is difficult to see where his plan would regiment the farmer any more

And it is probably true that direct production payments would be more efficient.

The level of payments is the crucial point in the Brannan plan, and very little has been said about it. Under the "plan," of course, commodities were to find their natural level in the free market. That would give consumers a break. And the government was to pay farmers the difference between the free market price and the parity level. If the parity level is set high, the inducement to overproduction is still present. And if it is low, the commodity price in the free market would surely rise.

KIT CARSON

In 1835, Arapaho Indians cemented their friendship with trappers with a fandango, during which Shunor, a trapper, tried to kiss Waa-nibe, the chief's daughter.

Waa-nibe handled the situation with a ladle full of buffalo stew, much to the merriment of Kit Carson and the other trappers.

Then Waa-nibe asked Kit to be her dinner companion . . .

Furious, Shunor approached Kit: "Next time you see me, be sure your guns are loaded," he said.

New Missouri Egg Law Is Reported Effective

By LEONARD A. VOSS
 MU Extension Poultry Specialist
 The Missouri Egg Law has been in operation since Aug. 29. It was put in operation in most instances with very little difficulty. And, in general, everyone seems to be very well pleased with it.

It is now possible to see some of the effects of the law. The 11 inspectors working for the Missouri State Department of Agriculture in enforcing the law report that most stores are handling only AA, A, B, and C eggs in accordance with the law.

Consumer demand seems to be greatest for grade A eggs. Only a few stores are handling grade AA. Stores report that grade C eggs are not moving very well.

Some stores are reporting difficulty in obtaining a supply of graded eggs from dealers. However, this is being corrected rapidly as more and more dealers are grading eggs and selling them to retail outlets. Many retail outlets do not appear willing to grade eggs themselves but would rather secure a supply from egg dealers.

Each week more and more graded markets become available for producers. These dealers report that sometimes the quality of the eggs being delivered is not too good the first time or two but that producers soon change their management and handling practices. Usually, the second or third delivery is much better and soon producers are delivering from 85 to 95 per cent grade A eggs. In one small western Missouri town, there are three produce buyers who are now buying eggs on the graded basis. They have all started buying since the egg law became effective.

A number of producers are grading their eggs themselves, placing them in cartons with their names on them, and putting them in stores for sale. These producers are receiving the five to seven cents per dozen spread between the prices ordinarily paid to producers for graded eggs and the price for which the egg dealer sells them to the retailer. By labeling the cartons, the producers are finding that consumers soon get in the habit of buying eggs and it increases the demand for them.

The Commissioner of Agriculture's office at Jefferson City reports that the inspectors are working as rapidly as possible and have visited many stores in the state. It will be some time before all towns can be visited. On several second visits stop sale notices have been issued where eggs are not of the quality shown on the label or the carton.

Some dealers report difficulty in finding a market for cracked and dirty eggs which are salable only to processors. It is felt that in due time marketing channels for this commodity will be set up so that these eggs can readily find their way to breakers.

FHA Loans For Farm Building Improvement

Farmers in Pettis county who own and personally operate family-type farms and need to build or repair essential farm buildings, including dwellings, may be eligible for building improvement loans through the Farmers Home Administration, Oscar H. DeWolf, the agency's county supervisor, said this week.

A building improvement loan is only one type of the agency's farm ownership loans. Loans are made either from insured funds put up by private lenders or from funds appropriated by Congress. Other types of farm ownership loans the Farmers Home Administration makes or insures enable farmers to purchase, enlarge, develop, or improve family-type farms. Construction and repair of essential farm buildings are provided for in all types of farm ownership loans to the extent necessary to make the farm an efficient unit.

With a building improvement loan a farmer may construct, alter, repair, replace or relocate an essential building or buildings on his farm. Specific improvements are agreed upon before the loan is made. Buildings must meet reasonable construction standards and be adequate for the farm's needs. No loan is made that will bring a farmer's indebtedness up to more than the fair and reasonable value of the farm.

Loan funds may be used to provide a water supply for dwellings and other buildings including wells, pumps, and farmstead distribution systems.

A building improvement loan may be made for periods from five to 40 years, depending on the improvement, and the farmer's debt-paying ability.

Agriculture Faced With Big Problem Of Farm Surpluses

What can be done about farm surpluses? This topic is receiving plenty of attention as it is one of the more important problems facing agriculture today.

This important topic is going to be the subject of discussion at this year's Farm Forum at the University of Missouri on Nov. 1-2. Outstanding speakers will discuss every aspect of the surplus problem. And, in addition, those attending will have the opportunity to ask questions from the floor.

The meeting will be held in the University's new Jesse Auditorium. Although there will be special delegates to the Farm Forum, everyone is invited to attend.

WEIGHING FOR SELECTION—Joe Bill Reid, Houstonia, left, and his son, Jimmy, weigh one of their good Hampshire boar pigs. There is a close correlation between the weight of pigs at eight weeks (weaning age) and weight at six months. Because of this many hog producers weigh their pigs at weaning time to determine the best litters and for selection of gilts and boars rather than at maturity when the animals are much harder to handle. Most of the Swine Breed Associations have now adopted a production registry program which makes use of the above correlation. Registered Hampshire litters must weigh 320 pounds at eight weeks and contain eight or more pigs to qualify for production registry. The weighing must be supervised by some disinterested party like the Merle Vaughan took this picture while doing some weighing at the Reid farm recently. An eight-pig litter would need to average 40 pounds per pig. The pig used in the picture is over age and somewhat larger than usually found at eight weeks. An ordinary bathroom scales is handy to do the weighing.

GOOD FARMING

Farmers Forum, Nov. 1-2

The farmers' Forum is being conducted on somewhat the same basis as a leader training meeting. That is, it is so set up that representatives of groups and clubs can attend and then bring a report back to those groups.

The district advisory committees to the Extension Service have recommended that several forums be held over the state each year. The next year they might be held in other places. A number of such forums would shorten the distance of many people and many more could attend than now get to Columbia from all over the state.

It is unlikely that any such forums would be closer than the present one at Columbia. Most folks in Pettis County can do their chores a little early and get over for the program each day. Also, returning after the program in the evening will not make many folks much later than usual with their chores.

Finally the topic of farm surpluses is on all of our minds. If we attend we will have the opportunity to hear the latest thoughts on what to do about them. In addition, if we pass those thoughts on to members of our 4-H Clubs, Home Economics Clubs, Farm and Home Planning groups and farm organizations, we will have been of some additional service to our communities.

Electric Heaters Can Protect Against Milk, Pump House Freezing

With the coming of winter comes the problem of providing protection against freezing in milk and pump houses. In many cases, electric heaters can be used to provide this protection.

Last winter, agricultural engineers at the University of Missouri, in cooperation with the St. Joseph Light and Power Co., made a study of the use of electric heaters in milk and pump houses in Buchanan and Andrew Counties.

Meters were connected to some of the heaters to check energy consumption. The total kilowatt-hours used in milk houses from December through March ranged from about 240 watts to 500 watts. A check on two pump house heaters showed one used 34 kilowatt-hours while the other used more than 160.

According to the engineers, there were two factors largely responsible for the wide variation in the amount of energy used. These factors were the insulation in the houses and the setting of the heaters thermostats.

The milk house heater which used the least amount of electrical energy was located in a well constructed building with overhead insulation. The thermostat was set at 35 degrees Fahrenheit.

In conclusion, the engineers said electrical heaters can be used to provide economical protection against freezing in milk and pump houses if the houses are well insulated, and if the thermostats are properly adjusted.

Oklahoma Staggers Weaker Colorado With 56-21 Victory

Eighth Big 7 Title Appears Within Grasp

Fading Missouri Is Hit By Determined Nebr. Grid Squad

KANSAS CITY, (AP)—It now appears an almost certainty that the Oklahoma Sooners will win the Big Seven Conference title for the eighth straight year, have another perfect season and play in the Orange Bowl.

And it could be that Oklahoma has its greatest team since Bud Wilkinson took over as coach in 1947.

Coach Dallas Ward, who watched Oklahoma rip his Colorado Buffaloes 56-21 at Norman last Saturday, commented it was the best Oklahoma team he has played and that it's the fastest team he has ever seen any place.

The Sooners now have scored in 100 successive games and have gone 47 playing dates (45 victories and 2 ties) since losing to a Big Seven member.

Oklahoma is scheduled to make Kansas State its third Big Seven victim of the campaign at Manhattan Saturday. Kansas State won its first conference game, 9-7 over Iowa State, on Jim Rusher's field goal last Saturday.

Meanwhile, the battle for second place will be going full steam. Nebraska, tied with Oklahoma for first place after its 18-12 victory over weak Missouri, will meet Kansas at Lincoln Saturday. Missouri plays Colorado at Boulder and Iowa State meets non-conference Drake at Des Moines.

Kansas fell to Southern Methodist, 33-14, at Lawrence last week.

Five Sooners scored touchdowns at Norman after Colorado had struck for a 14-0 lead early in the second quarter. Bob Burris was the leader with three. Oklahoma had a 21-14 lead by halftime and then poured it on.

Punchless Missouri scored first against Nebraska and had a 6-0 lead at the half, but Nebraska's speedy backs put it on the Tigers the second half. Missouri fumbles and a pass interception helped Nebraska to two of its touchdowns. SMU came to life late in over-powering Kansas. Kansas led 14-13 with 8 minutes left in the third period, but the Jayhawks couldn't cope with Don McIlhenny, who scored four touchdowns.

Big Seven Bits: Chances are excellent the Missouri Tigers will be walking on their own beads one of these days. They're pledged not to shave until they win a game. After Colorado they meet Oklahoma at Columbia. Nebraska has exceptionally fine backs in Don Erway and Rex Fischer. Sylvester Harris, Negro back from Kansas City, also had a great day against Missouri.

Oklahoma continues its domination of statistics. National leader in rushing last week, the Sooners boosted their average per game from 315.3 yards to 316.4 against Colorado. Sooner Tommy McDonald is the individual rushing leader with 53 carries for 371 yards. He leads in scoring with 54 points. Dave Doane of Missouri continues as the leading passer with 43 of 86 for 639 yards. Teammate Hal Burnine, an end, is the leading pass receiver with 24 catches for 333 yards.

Cleveland and Los Angeles Dominate Pro Grid League

By RIP WATSON
The Associated Press

Pro football fans in Cleveland and Los Angeles can be glad Otto Graham and Crazy Legs Hirsch aren't the retiring type.

The two old pros called it quits at the end of last season, then changed their minds. Today their clubs are leading the National Football League.

True, the surprising Pittsburgh Steelers are keeping pace with Cleveland in the Eastern Conference, but they were far less impressive yesterday in a 19-17 victory over the New York Giants than the Browns were in walloping Green Bay 41-10.

Graham, completing 7 of 12 passes for 187 yards, guided the Browns on touchdown marches of 74, 97 and 71 yards and scored once himself.

Hirsch took a pass from Norm Van Brocklin for the winning touchdown in Los Angeles' 24-13 victory over the toothless Detroit Lions. By winning, the Rams emerged from a three-way tie for the Western Conference lead as the Packers were beaten and Washington edged Baltimore 14-13 on Vic Janowicz's accurate conversion kicking.

The Chicago Bears won their second straight after a miserable start as Ed Brown ran for two touchdowns and passed for a third.

passes for 398 yards and a percentage of 55.8. They've thrown an average of 8.6 passes per game.

Only one pass has been intercepted. That was by Corky Costello of Pittsburgh, who hauled in one of quarterback Jim Harris' throws. He was nailed in his tracks.

Halfback Tommy McDonald has been Oklahoma's best passer as well as its rushing leader and top scorer. He has completed 10 of 13 passes for 156 yards.

The Sooners have scored only two touchdowns on passes and both of these were thrown by Billy Sturm of Muskogee, Okla., who runs the third team. However, they have taken to the air to set up numerous touchdowns.

Warrensburg And Girardeau In Contention

KANSAS CITY (AP)—Cape Girardeau's undefeated and untied Indians and the surprising Warrensburg Mules go to it Saturday in a game that could well decide the M.I.A.A. football championship.

The game will be played at Warrensburg in the afternoon.

Warrensburg, which hasn't won the title since 1926 and in recent years has been one of the league's weakest members, has beaten Kirksville (19-7), Springfield (13-0) and Maryville (14-7) in conference play. The Mules have a 3-3 season record.

Cape has won all six of its games and inside the league has whipped Maryville (31-6), Rolla (9-6) and Springfield (14-0). Rolla (2-1) is the only other team still in the titular picture.

In other league games this Saturday Rolla will play at Maryville and Springfield at Kirksville.

In top-flight games last Saturday Warrensburg defeated Maryville 14-7 at Maryville and Rolla handed Kirksville, the 1954 champion, its third conference loss, 14-19 at Rolla.

Warrensburg used long touchdown plays from Stan Hensley and Harold Weintraub to win in the second quarter. Maryville scored in the third quarter on a 48-yard pass play from Dick Powell to Mickey Mallen. The Mules won on Maryville's one-foot line as the game ended.

Rolla came from behind in the last quarter to beat Kirksville. Roger Feaster's two touchdowns passes turned the trick.

Houston Near To Missouri Valley Tieup

Cougars Ready For Showdown With '54 Champions Saturday

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Bill Mee's three-deep Houston club is only one game from a tie for the Missouri Valley football title and to stop 'em Wichita will have to reach the heights of its stirring 1954 Houston victory.

The Texans take a 2-0 Valley record into this showdown with the defending champions (1-1) Saturday night at Houston. In all games the Cougars now stands 4-1 after a 7-0 revenge victory over high-scoring Texas Tech.

Wichita beat Houston 9-7 in last season's tie game and the Kansasans deserved it. They kept the ball the final 11 minutes with a griff 75-yard drive into the teeth of a strong wind, often gambling and winning on fourth down.

Detroit (2-1), Houston and Wichita would be in a three-way tie in the event of a Wheatshocker victory. That would give Tulsa, playing its first conference game, a chance to grab the lead by beating Oklahoma A & M (0-3) at Stillwater Saturday.

The Hurricane, which gained a 21-21 tie with Cincinnati, rules a slight favorite in the renewal of a traditional series.

Detroit, after an impressive 7-0 comeback victory over the Aggies, gets the nod at Cincinnati Saturday. It's needed to boost the Valley's anemic 5-9-2 intersectional record.

Wichita was stunned 28-12 by unbeaten Texas Western after riding a 12-7 lead into the last quarter. Western converted 11 fumbles into a pair of quick touchdowns, then added a 65-yard interception. Jack Conway's 36-yard run sent the Valley team into an early lead.

Houston's defense was tremendous in the Tech victory. The Cougars stopped a 97-yard drive on the one-yard line, then stifled a 55-yard drive gained on a flurry of passes. The Cougars struck for an early T. D. and later fumbled away two potential scoring drives.

It evened matters for a 61-14 licking last year, worst in Houston history, which Tech handed the Cougars, weakened by food poisoning.

Tulsa erased a 14-9 Cincinnati lead with a 257-yard rushing attack. Al Backus scored twice, once on a 40-yard dash.

Detroit smothered Oklahoma A & M's offense, holding the Aggies to 83 yards, all on the ground. The Titans rushed for 248 yards and won it with a 69-yard drive capped by Bill Russell's fourth-down four-yard sweep of a pitch-out.

Football Star Hurt In Texas Auto Crash

In 1954, his senior year that saw him play the greatest game of his career against Arkansas, Eidom was named All-Southwest Conference.

He shot a 5-under-par 67 on the first 18 and was never headed.

Unbeaten Ranks Are Reduced to 39 Teams

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The upending of such major teams as Duke, Yale, Boston College and Colorado has left only 39 unbeaten - untied - college football eleven going into the seventh week of competition.

Maryland, rated second in the nation, heads the list of six teams which have won six games. Four of the nation's top ranked undefeated squads have five victories—Michigan (No. 1), Oklahoma (No. 3) Navy (No. 4) and West Virginia (No. 8). Holy Cross also is unbeaten in five games.

Navy-Notre Dame Tilt Tops Among Major Colleges

By ED CORRIGAN
The Associated Press

Texas A&M won't play in any bowl game this year but they will go down as the surprise of the 1955 college football season.

Most of the September hotshots have faded and the top teams are beginning to seek their own level. But the sophomore-laden Aggies, winners of only one game last year, persist in astounding their opposition in the Southwest Conference — perhaps the roughest league in the country.

Bear Bryant's lads were penalized by the Conference for recruiting too vigorously. They were barred from postseason competition this year. That didn't bother Bryant because even he thought his team was a year or two away.

The Aggies still have four SWC games on their schedule starting with Arkansas this Saturday. Then, on successive weeks, they play Southern Methodist, Rice and Texas. Nothing is certain, of course, in this upset-happy loop, but as George Sauer, whose Baylor club took a 19-7 pasting last Saturday, said:

"I don't see who can stop them." No provision has been made by the conference for a substitute team to act as host in the Cotton Bowl New Year's Day, so if the Aggies win the title there will be some hasty executive sessions.

Most of the other conferences are going according to form with the possible exception of the South-eastern. Auburn, one of the few remaining major unbeaten, is riding atop the standings, and Georgia Tech, the favorite, is no better than fourth.

Here's how the other major conferences stand: Big Ten-Michigan, another favorite, is out front, but its 14-13 squeaker over Minnesota Saturday gave a measure of encouragement to Ohio State, which all but eliminated Wisconsin 26-16.

Big Seven-Oklahoma took care of Colorado, the only team figured to give it a run, 58-21. The Sooners now have won 24 in a row and the end isn't in sight.

Ivy League-Yale was rated No. 1 at the start but has been unable to shake Princeton. They're tied for the lead and meet Nov. 12.

The big game this week will pit unbeaten, untied Navy against once-defeated Notre Dame. The Middles played under wraps in crushing Penn 33-0 Saturday by way of confusing the Notre Dame scouts in Franklin Field.

Vikings Meet Cardinals For Championship

KANSAS CITY (AP) — The undefeated and untied Missouri Valley Vikings and William Jewell's Cardinals will meet in their annual game for the M.C.A.U. football championship at Marshall Friday night.

While both teams will have conference games remaining after Friday the two definitely are the class of the league.

Last year the game resulted in

Can't Kill the Bulls

HUNTSVILLE, Tex. (AP)—Texas laws forbid killing bulls in bullfights. But the Mexican fighting bull on which Bette Ford, former model, demonstrated her bullfighting prowess yesterday at the Texas prison rodeo didn't seem to benefit very much.

The bulls learn quickly and are extremely dangerous if used a second time in the arena. So even though this one survived the guest performer's demonstration — he's ticketed for the prison stewpot.

a 13-13 tie and the Vikings and Cardinals shared the title.

Coach Volney Ashford's Vikings rate as the favorite on a basis of season play thus far. The Vikings won their sixth straight game in beating Alva (Okla.) State 21-12 last Friday. William Jewell, coached by Norris Patterson, was a 54-0 victim of strong College of Emporia last week. The Cards have a season record of 3-2 and have won their only M.C.A.U. game. Valley has not played a league yet.

In other games this week Culver-Stockton will host Illinois College Friday night, and Tarkio plays Graceland (Ia.) on the road Saturday. Central has an open date.

Colorful Bouts Slated For TV Thruout Week

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

A couple of ambitious invaders, Hoazine Khalfi of Algeria and Ludwig Lightburn of British Honduras, clash tonight in a lightweight 10-rounder at New York's St. Nicholas Arena (Dumont-TV, 8 p.m., CST).

Lightburn, who has copied Sugar Ray Robinson's fighting style, has won three straight and has a 34-6 0 won-lost-draw record. Khalfi, a protege of the late Marcel Cerdan, has a 4-10-5 record.

Boardwalk Billy Smith of Atlantic City, N. J., and Johnny Holman of Chicago, a couple of solid punchers, collided in the Wednesday night radio-television (ABC-TV radio, 8 p. m. CST) fight at the Miami Beach Auditorium.

Lightweight contender Johnny Gonsalves of Oakland, Calif., and flashy Lulu Perez, moving up from the 126-pound to the 135-pound class, tangle in a Friday night 10-rounder at New York's Madison Square Garden (NBC-TV-radio, 8 p.m., CST).

Probably the best show of the week matches Hurricane Tommy Jackson and Jimmy Slade, a pair of New York heavyweights, in a non-TV 10-rounder in the Cleveland Area Friday night.

Jap Children Behave

TOKYO (AP)—Maybe you've heard Japanese children are well behaved.

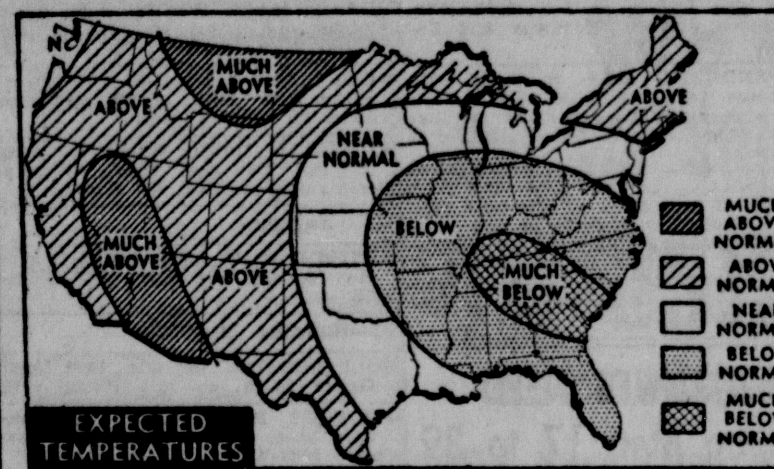

Anyway, a poll conducted by Tokyo primary teacher Takefumi Totani among his students shows:

Forty-five per cent of the boys and 39 per cent of the girls said they got frequent spankings at home. More girls than boys said it made them angry and some said they talked back.

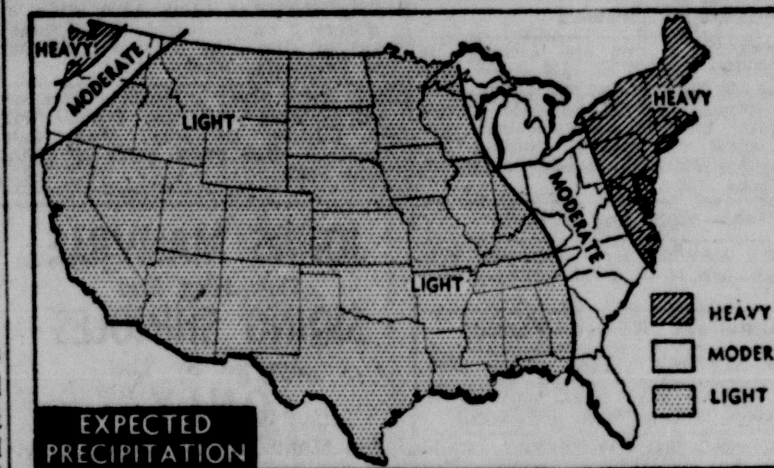

Twenty-eight per cent said they felt lying couldn't be helped. Almost all of them said they thought they were misunderstood.

Cold Down South---

The weather-maps below give you the U.S. Weather Bureau's long-range forecast through the middle of November. It is not a specific forecast in the usual sense, but an ESTIMATE of the average temperature and precipitation for the period.

Temperatures up to mid-November will average below seasonal normals in the southeastern quarter of the country. Above normal temperatures are expected over the rest of the nation.

Precipitation up to mid-November is expected to exceed normal in the Northeast and Pacific Northwest. Subnormal amounts are predicted for most of the rest of the country.

Diocesan Council Has Fall Meeting Here

Diocesan Council of Catholic Women, District 12, which includes 12 parishes in the Sedalia area, held its fall meeting Oct. 21, in the Sacred Heart School Cafeteria with an unusually large number of delegates present.

The Rev. A. J. Brunswick, C. P. S., welcomed the group.

Mrs. Betty Purcell, executive secretary; Mrs. E. E. Clarkson, diocesan president and Mrs. Paul Orr, membership chairman, all from the diocesan headquarters in Kansas City, were present and directed a most interesting program.

The Rev. J. T. Nolan, spiritual moderator of District 12, gave an inspiring talk on the practical application of Catholic principles in day by day living.

Miss Genevieve Moriarty, Mora, received the attendance award, a book on guidance aids to leaders. A group of Altar Society members from Sacred Heart served refreshments of cake and coffee. Mrs. Hubert Aggeler invited the group to be the guests of the St. Joseph Altar Society at Clifton City for the spring meeting.

Houstonia Man Will Take Part In Maneuver

Pvt. Ronald Collier, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Collier, Houstonia, is assigned to the aggressor forces in Exercise Sage Brush, the largest Army-Air Force maneuver since World War II.

The exercise will be held in Louisiana Nov. 1 to Dec. 15. Some 110,000 Army troops will test the latest concepts in atomic, bacteriological, chemical and electronic warfare.

The aggressor force will furnish opposition to the regular maneuver troops in simulated battles.

Pvt. Collier, a member of the XVIII Airborne Corps, is regularly stationed at Fort Bragg, N. C. A former student at Central Missouri State College at Warrensburg, he entered the Army last March.

New Hazard

FREDERICKSBURG, Va. (AP)—J. N. Davidson, a phone company lineman, had a new one for his list of occupational hazards: "Attacked by eagle." He was just starting to spike his way up a pole when the bird flailed at him and then withdrew. A game warden found the bird—an American Bald Eagle—had apparently been wounded by a hunter. He tried to heal the symbolic American bird but finally had to destroy it. The Eagle had a wingspread of 6 feet, 6 inches.

ARE YOU LOSING YOUR HEARING?

Check These Danger Signs—It May Save You a World of Trouble and Unhappiness

Kansas City (Special)—Do you now have trouble understanding folks in group conversation? Do you hear the words but fail to understand? Is it hard to hear the difference between fifteen and fifty—then and ten—life and knife, or other sound-alike words? Do you feel a growing suspicion that folks are ridiculing you behind your back?

If you must say "yes" to any of the above, you may already have a serious hearing loss. That's how deafness comes—creeps up so gradually you may be quite hard of hearing before you realize what is causing all your discomfort and inconvenience.

See Mr. V. G. Schwarz, well known hearing aid authority, who will demonstrate the new "hide-away" all-transistor Beltone on WEDNESDAY afternoon from one 'til five p.m. October 26th at the BOTHWELL HOTEL.

Mr. Schwarz will test your hearing without charge, and if a hearing aid will help, will show the ladies how they might wear it in their hair—no cord shows on neck or body. Men hide it in their ties. Remember the date. No obligation.

Death Toll Rises From Plane Crash

NORTH HOLLYWOOD, Calif. (AP)—Two more deaths have brought to eight the total killed by the crash of millionaire sportsman Joel Thorne's plane into an apartment house last Monday night.

Miss Anna Presincano, 41, Lyndhurst, N. J., and Mrs. Laura Marchica, 38, succumbed yesterday to burns.

They were sisters of Mike Preston, 31, who is still in critical condition as is Mrs. Marchica's daughter Patricia, 9.

Patricia and Preston are the only survivors of a family group of eight who were celebrating the baptism a few hours earlier of 7-week-old Sheryl Preston. The celebration was at the Preston apartment.

Killed in the crash were the baby, Thorne and an 18-year-old bride of two months, Mrs. Betty Wolf. Then Patricia's brother Johnny Marchica, 6, died. Friday night Mrs. Shirley Preston, 25, wife of Mike and mother of the baby, died. So did Frank Marchica, 38, Preston's brother-in-law.

Diplomatic Bubbles
ELLSWORTH, Iowa (AP)—Ralph Olsen of Ellsworth, a member of the Iowa farm delegation that visited Russia during the summer, tells how delegation members used a Russian gift to save American taxpayers some money.

The Russians gave each member of the delegation a suitcase full of champagne, but the cost of shipping it home would have been prohibitive, Olsen says.

So the Americans gave it away—to the United States Embassy in Moscow.

UN Truce Chief
For Palestine
Brings Report

JERUSALEM (U. N. — The U. N. truce chief for Palestine was an air to U. N. headquarters in New York today to report on the troubled situation along the Israel-Arab borders.

An Israeli raid in which three Syrians were reported killed and five captured added urgency to his mission.

Israel complained to the Security Council that Syria was guilty of persistent violations of her border.

The truce supervisor, Maj. Gen. E. L. M. Burns, said an investigation showed at least two groups of 20 to 30 armed Israelis each carried out a "well-planned" retaliatory raid across the Syrian border Saturday night.

He said Syrian sources reported one of their lieutenants and two privates were killed and six privates wounded. Israel previously had announced the capture of five Syrian soldiers, including a lieutenant and a sergeant.

"Bits of equipment and ammunition found in the area of the attack have Israeli markings, and blood traces lead in the direction of the Israeli border," the Canadian truce chief said.

He declared it was a tragic illustration of the "policy of retaliation," and took off for New York to make a report to the U. N.

Stevenson Does Some Political Mending

LIBERTYVILLE, Ill. (U. N. — Adlai E. Stevenson did a little political fence mending yesterday at his 70-acre farm.

He entertained Lake County Democratic precinct committeemen and others—about 200 in all.

But the 1952 Democratic presidential nominee did not divulge his 1956 plans to his neighbors. He is expected to make the announcement next month.

Sen. John Sparkman of Alabama, who was the nominee for vice president on the ticket headed by Stevenson, was an overnight guest at the farm.

Stevenson made no speech. He mingled with the visitors and showed them around his place.
